Department Of Health And Social Care Internship Graduate 2025

Description

The Department of Health and Social Care (DHSC) is excited to offer graduate internship opportunities for passionate and dedicated individuals interested in shaping the future of healthcare and social care in the UK. This internship will provide valuable experience in public health policy, research, and service delivery while offering professional development and career progression within the public sector. The successful candidates will contribute to vital projects and support DHSC's mission to improve health and care services across the country.

Responsibilities

As a DHSC Graduate Intern, you will be involved in a variety of tasks, including:

- Policy Research and Analysis: Support the development of health and social care policies by researching key issues, reviewing data, and providing analysis to help inform decision-making.
- Project Support: Assist in the planning, delivery, and evaluation of health and social care programs and projects across different teams within DHSC.
- Stakeholder Engagement: Help facilitate communication with key stakeholders, including government bodies, health organizations, and external partners to support collaborative work.
- Administrative Support: Provide administrative assistance, such as preparing reports, scheduling meetings, organizing events, and maintaining project documentation.
- Communication: Assist in drafting materials for public communication, including press releases, newsletters, and internal reports.
- Impact Assessment: Support the monitoring and evaluation of health and care policies, ensuring that they align with DHSC's goals and meet the needs of the population.
- Data Handling: Analyze quantitative and qualitative data to support ongoing policy initiatives, ensuring accurate and timely reporting.

Qualifications

- A recent graduate (within the last 2 years) with a degree in a relevant field such as Public Health, Social Policy, Social Work, Health Sciences, Political Science, or a related discipline.
- Strong academic record with coursework or projects that demonstrate a commitment to public health or social care issues.

Experience

- No prior experience is required, though any relevant work experience, voluntary work, or internships within health, social care, or public policy will be considered an advantage.
- Demonstrated interest in healthcare policy, health systems, or social care issues is beneficial.
