Description

Greggs is excited to announce the launch of its Graduate Internship Scheme for Beans 2025, designed for ambitious graduates who are eager to begin a career in one of the UK's leading food-on-the-go retailers. This internship will provide the opportunity to gain hands-on experience, develop key business skills, and be a part of a dynamic, fast-paced team that focuses on delivering great customer service, high-quality food, and innovative business solutions.

Responsibilities

- Project Support: Assist with key business projects across various departments such as marketing, operations, product development, HR, or finance, helping to shape and deliver outcomes.
- Market Research: Conduct research on market trends, customer preferences, and competitor activity to help inform business strategies.
- Data Analysis: Analyze sales and operational data to identify trends and provide recommendations for improving business performance.
- Customer Insights: Engage with customers through surveys, feedback collection, and other methods to gather insights and help enhance the customer experience.
- Team Collaboration: Work closely with different teams, contributing to meetings, brainstorming sessions, and presenting ideas and findings.
- Training and Development: Participate in training and development sessions designed to build business skills, leadership capabilities, and industry knowledge.
- Reporting: Support the preparation of reports, presentations, and business documents for senior management.

Qualifications

- A degree (or equivalent) in any relevant field, such as Business, Marketing, Hospitality, or Food Science.
- Graduating in 2025 (or within 12 months prior).
- A strong interest in the food retail industry and the operations of a leading UK brand like Greggs.
- A positive and proactive approach to learning, with a passion for delivering great results in a fast-paced environment.

Experience

- No specific work experience required; however, any relevant work experience, such as part-time jobs, internships, or voluntary work, will be an advantage.
- A proven interest in the retail or food industries through academic study, personal projects, or extracurricular activities is desirable.
